Dr. Alderwood Comes to Ottawa

In conformity with a decision of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada at its recent meeting in Winnipeg, Rev. Canon H. A. Alderwood, director of the Indian Residential Schools, has transferred his office to Ottawa.

It opens this week at 102 Bank street at 4 p.m., and on Thursday, December 7, Dr. Alderwood will hold a reception at that address which all Anglicans interested are invited to attend. There will be an exhibition of Indian arts and work.

The removal of the office to Ottawa was considered necessary in the best interests of the Indian schools, as it was felt that a more direct contact could be had with the Indian Affairs branch of the Department of Mines and Resources.
